Whole School Policy for responding to Critical Incidents

Name of School: Gaelscoil Choráin

Roll Number: 19833F

Aim

The aim of the Critical Incidence Management Plan (CIMP) is to help school management and staff to react quickly and effectively in the event of an incident, to enable us to maintain a sense of control and to ensure that appropriate support is offered to students and staff. This plan should enable us to return to normality as soon as possible and also ensure that the effects on the students and staff will be limited.

Definition of a critical incident

The staff and management of Gaelscoil Choráin recognise a critical incident to be “an incident or sequence of events which overwhelms the normal coping mechanisms of the school”.

Critical incidences may involve one or more students or staff members, or members of our local community.

Types of incidents might include:

- The death of a member of the school community through accident, violence, suicide or suspected suicide or other unexpected death
- An intrusion into the school
- An accident involving members of the school community
- An accident/tragedy in the wider community
- Serious damage to the school building through fire, flood, vandalism.
- The disappearance of a member of the school community

Physical Safety

As is outlined in the school ethos; „SONAS- spreagaimis onóir, neamhspleáchas, aonarachas agus sábháilteacht“, the school strives to ensure both physical and psychological safety of the school community.

There is a detailed account of how the school is managing the physical safety of both staff and students available in the health and safety policy, here are a few examples;

- Regular fire drills
- Fire exits and extinguishers are checked regularly
- Pre-school yard supervision
- Lunch-time supervision
- Buzz-in system upon entering the school.

Psychological safety

The management and staff of Gaelscoil Choráin aim to use available programmes and resources to address the personal and social development of students, to enhance a sense of safety and security in the school and to provide opportunities for reflection and discussion

- Social, Personal and Health Education be integrated into the work of the school. It is addressed in the curriculum by addressing issues such as communication skills; stress and anger management; conflict management; problem solving; help- seeking; bullying; decision making and prevention of substance abuse
- Books and resources on difficulties affecting the primary school student are available
- The school has a clear policy on bullying and deals with bullying in accordance with this policy
- Students who are identified with psychological issues are identified and assessed.

Confidentiality and good name considerations

The management and staff of Gaelscoil Choráin have a responsibility to protect the privacy and good name of the people involved in any incident and will be sensitive to the consequences of any public statements. The members of the school staff will keep this in mind and will seek to ensure that students do so also. For instance, the term suicide will not be used unless there is solid information that death was due to suicide, and that the family involved consents to its use. A Thuismitheor, a Chara,

We are writing to let you know of the sad death, tragedy of Our thoughts and heartfelt sympathies are with the Family at this very difficult time for them.

We are putting supports in place to help our pupils at this very difficult time. Teachers & Counsellors will be available to provide support.

It is possible that your son/daughter may have some feelings and questions that he/she may like to discuss with you. It is important to give factual information that is appropriate to their age.

You can help your son/daughter by taking time to listen and by encouraging them to express their feelings. All young people are different and will express their feelings in different ways. It is not uncommon to have difficulty concentrating or to be fearful, anxious and irritable. You may see a change in sleeping or eating patterns that are generally short term reactions. Over the course of the days to come, please keep an eye on your son/daughter and allow him/her to express their feelings without criticism. Although classes will continue as usual, the next few days may be difficult for some of our pupils.

We have enclosed some information which you may find useful in helping them through this difficult time. In addition to this we would advise that you keep a close eye on your son/daughter and encourage them to meet in safe places such as your home.

If you would like advice you may contact the following people at the school. If you have immediate and serious concerns contact your GP and keep the school informed.

APPENDIX 3

Young people do not need to be taught how to grieve. They will do it naturally in healthy ways if we allow them and if we provide a safe atmosphere, permission and example to do so.

- Listen carefully. Let them tell their story. Tell them that the reactions they have are normal.
- Pay extra attention. Spend extra time with them, be more nurturing and comforting.
- Reassure them that they are safe.
- Don't tell them that they are 'lucky it wasn't worse' People are not consoled by such statements. Instead tell them that you are sorry such an event has occurred and you want to understand and help them.
- Do not be surprised by changes in behaviour or personality. They will return to their usual self in time.
- Don't take their anger or other feelings personally. Help them to understand the relationship between anger and trauma. Help them find safe ways to express their feelings e.g. by drawing, exercise or talking.
- Help them to understand that defiance, aggression and risk behaviour is away to avoid feeling the pain, hurt and or fear they are feeling.
- When going out, let them know where you are going and when you will be back.
- If you are out for along time telephone and reassure them.
- Tolerate regressive behaviour such as nail biting, thumb sucking, or the need for a night light.
- Share your own experiences of being frightened of something and getting through it.
- If they are feeling guilt or shame, emphasise that they did not choose for this to happen and that they are not to blame. Even if they were angry with the person that died, or had been mean to them, this did not make it happen.
- Work with the school support services and other available services.
